Personal Statement

I decided to do something big from my early childhood. I belong to a village and a low-income family. Good education is the only way to transform our lives. I am confident and love to participate in extracurricular activities. I worked hard and topped in my village school. Being educated, I am against all the wrong traditions in my village as not motivating girls for their education. I successfully negotiated with my parents for my sister's education as I am good at motivating others.

Such social problems push me to do something about them. Our majority is uneducated, directionless, and from lower-class families. This raises multiple social problems that can be solved by making them stable financially and providing them with best education.

I am doing bachelor's in information technology. I want to learn about modern technology so that I can start a tech startup that will have the potential to make our economy stable so that we could move forward to solve these social problems by providing job opportunities and better education.

This is very important for me to be equipped with strong leadership qualities and communication skills for serving my community. I am eager to grab all those opportunities which can help me in my life goal.
